Cleveland Museum of Art Introduces New Film Series

Panorama: Moving Pictures @ the Art Museum Debuts June 1

CLEVELAND (May 9, 2003) — The Cleveland Museum of Art (CMA) is pleased to announce the debut of its new film program, Panorama: Moving Pictures @ the Art Museum. This new film series is more than just about films; it will also feature visiting filmmakers, such as Pixar Filmmaker Pete Docter on Sunday, June 1, 2003, at 2 p.m. in Gartner Auditorium.

Panorama will also feature silent films with live music when organist Dennis James, one of the foremost silent film musicians, will accompany a screening of the Harold Lloyd comedy, Girl Shy on Friday, August 8.

New Ticketing Discounts Available

New ticketing discounts are also available to visitors. Tickets are available for $7, $5 for CMA members with $3 discounted tickets for seniors 65 and over and students with identification; or guests may purchase new ticket vouchers in packs of ten for $40; $30 for CMA members. Seating is not reserved.

"Panorama provides the opportunity to reinvigorate one of the oldest museum film programs in the country, and to renew our commitment to one of the major art forms of our time," says John Ewing, head of the museum's film program. "Despite the new name, we will continue to show exceptional first-run and classic films from around the world, and will afford them the top-notch technical presentation they deserve."

The Cleveland Museum of Art receives operating support from the Ohio Arts Council and the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

The Cleveland Museum of Art is one of America's leading comprehensive museums. Its permanent collection is world renowned for its quality and breadth, spanning 6,000 years. The museum is a significant international forum for exhibitions, scholarship and art acquisitions.
